Internet Radio

For my final project I plan to make a web based music player. You will always have whatever music you want to listen to as long as you have an internet connection. Users can upload music to their own personal account. Users can create playlists to share and listen to on the go. IF time allows internet radio would be integrated into the site so even if you don't have your own playlist you can select what you're in the mood for and tune in.

Selected Technology

- Music uploaded to the cloud (Heroku Hosting) for anywhere access.
- Materialize css framework
- Standard Django framework
